

You've learned a lot in this course this semester. Looking back, what's some advice that you would give to future students if they asked you about how to do well in this course? Here are a few things to consider as you start writing this advice:

- was there something that you did that worked really well?
- were there resources that you regretted not taking advantage of?
- something else?

Dear future students of CSCI 3010,

You've learned a lot in this course this semester. Looking back, what's some advice that you would give to future students if they asked you about how to do well in this course? Here are a few things to consider as you start writing this advice:

- was there something that you did that worked really well?
- were there resources that you regretted not taking advantage of?
- something else?

Dear future students of CSCI 3010,